To who may it concerns,

Invitation for Investment in the Eravur Textile Zone Development, Sri Lanka

Greetings from the Embassy of Sri Lanka to you and best wishes for a prosperous 2025.

As you would know, Sri Lanka is successfully recovering from an economically challenging time and our key economic indicators suggest continued expansion in industry and services, with real GDP growth projected at 5.0% in 2024, the highest annual growth since 2017. With this revival Sri Lanka is poised to expand its trade and investment potential in 2025 and beyond.

In this background, we are pleased to inform you of an investment opportunity in the "Eravur Textile Zone" located in the Batticaloa District of Eastern Province in Sri Lanka which I believe may have interest for your company.

The Eravur Textile Zone has been designated as a "Strategic Development Project (SDP)" by the Sri Lankan government, and it offers a range of preferential measures for textile manufacturing.

Key Features of the Project:

Extensive Land Area and Infrastructure: The zone covers approximately 300 acres, equipped with marine wastewater treatment facilities, a central wastewater treatment plant, and other essential infrastructure to facilitate smooth manufacturing operations.

Abundant Workforce: The surrounding area offers an untapped labor pool, making it easy to secure a skilled workforce.

Attractive Tax Incentives: Investment incentives include corporate income tax exemptions and import tax exemptions, making it an appealing investment opportunity.

For more details, I draw your kind attention to the attached materials. Should you have any questions, we remain available for you to reach us through the contact the person listed below.
