This unique event is a contemporary interpretation of the Türkiye Pavilion's theme, "The Heyday of Civilizations." Throughout history, the golden eras of civilizations were shaped by science, art, beauty, and harmonious coexistence with nature. Today, these values are being revived through creative expressions rooted in cultural heritage.

"Echoes of Legacy" is a multilayered narrative that brings the spirit of the past to life through today's design language. Each garment echoes a civilization; each stitch weaves through the layers of time.

The rich heritage of Anatolia is reimagined as the spark of radical renewal. Historical textures are transformed into contemporary fashion, resonating with the voice of the past.

"Time does not merely pass—it accumulates in layers."

And those layers resonate toward modernity.

Here, the past is not simply remembered—it is heard anew, felt deeply, and transformed.

On September 2, 2025, Turkish fashion designers will present their 2026 collections through a captivating showcase accompanied by music and dance.

This fashion show is not only a visual feast, but an invitation to explore the echoes of civilization that continue to shape our present.

Ready-to-wear and fashion are among Türkiye's most globally competitive industries. With designs that blend tradition and modernity, this show will offer a creative and inspiring contribution to Expo 2025's vision of "Designing Future Society."

We would be honored to welcome you at this meaningful event.
